JAPAN ROCKED BY TWO MAJOR UNITED NATIONS ASSAULTS

Her Forces Beleaguered in The Solomons by Air, Land, Naval Offensives

DRIVEN FROM KOKODA

Four 'Jap' Ships, Transporting Reinforcements, Knocked Out of Action

By Lee Van Atta
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Aug. 13—(INS)—Her predatory forces beleaguered in the Solomon Islands by an Allied air, land and naval offensive raging on into its seventh day, Japan was rocked today under the impact of two major United Nations assaults elsewhere in the southwest Pacific.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that Australian infantry forces, aided by American fliers piloting "bomb" carrying Airacobras fighters, had driven the Japanese from the village of Kokoda, high in the Owen Stanley Mountain Range of New Guinea only 60 miles from Port Moresby.

The general himself disclosed in a communique that four Japanese ships, seeking to transport reinforcements and supplies to embattled Nipponese in the Solomons, had been knocked out of action at Rabaul, New Britain, in a devastating attack by American Flying Fortress bombers.

While United States Marines were reported steadily improving their footholds gained on three of the Solomon Islands, Gen. MacArthur announced that one 15,000-ton Jap ship had been set afire and three others left in a sinking condition.

"Heavy bombers executed a successful daylight attack on enemy shipping in Rabaul Harbor," the communique said.

"One 15,000-ton vessel was hit by heavy bombs and left in flames. A second large ship was seen sinking at the stern. Two medium-sized vessels were left in flames in a listing condition."

The Rabaul raid was one of a series of continued bombardments over a 3,000-mile arc north of Australia to blast Jap bases and prevent aid from reaching the Solomons.

The Flying Fortress attack on Rabaul, in which it was believed one-ton bombs were employed, was the most devastating yet unleashed in the southwest Pacific.

While the Flying Fortresses struck their record-making blows against Rabaul other Allied planes, lending fullest co-operation to the land, naval and air forces battling in the Solomons, also ranged out over the Banda Sea to smash small enemy-held island bases there and again attacked the Japanese occupied island of Timor.

Allied medium bombers attacked both shipping and Japanese installations in the Banda Sea, west of New Guinea. Results of these attacks were not learned immediately.

Shipping also was attacked off the south coast of Timor where previous raids resulted in the sinking of one Japanese cargo vessel, the probable sinking of a second and heavy damage to an enemy cruiser.

The large-scale pounding of Rabaul, site of important Jap airbases on New Britain Island, precipitated a furious dog fight. Eight Japanese fighter planes rose to intercept the American and Australian bomber and fighter squadrons.

One of the Jap fighters was shot out of the air and three to six others were hit and damaged. There were no Allied losses.

EDGELEY, Aug. 13—From sale of rubber donated by a number of individuals during the past few weeks at Minter's Service Station, here, the sum of $15 was realized. A total of 1500 pounds of rubber was received by Joseph Minter from localities and sold at the rate of one cent per pound.

As promised by Mr. Minter all rubber donated was sold and the money thus derived was turned over to the United Service Organizations, through Herman Bustraan, chairman of the U. S. O. drive in East Bristol Township.

MANEUVERS IN BRITAIN PROVIDE A REHEARSAL

Full Scale Drill Takes Place For the Coming European Attack

IS WAR GAMES TEST

By Lowell Bennett

LONDON, Aug. 13—(INS)—Tremendous battle maneuvers today in progress over hundreds of square miles in Britain are providing full-scale rehearsals before the United Nations undertake the invasion of Europe.

Over a great area in East Anglia, recently cleared of all civilians by order of the British War Cabinet, hundreds of tanks, thousands of vehicles and squadrons of fighters and bombers are going through their final paces for a thoroughly-planned attack on the continent.

Area where the maneuvers are taking place was once the location of peaceful English farms, villages and a few small towns. Now it is as barren as the rugged north of Scotland; every family has left to start life again in some other part of Britain.

Instead, it has been taken over by the Allied High Command for the most extensive war games ever to be held in this country.

Practice Savage Fighting

Tanks and bombers have free play—there is no fear of knocking down a farmer's fence and being bawled out by a commanding officer as in previous exercises—troops practice savage street fighting with no fear that they will damage homes.

An exact figure of the number of troops, tanks and planes involved is a military secret but the fact that there are nearly a thousand field umpires should give an idea of their size.

Every other war maneuver in Britain has always been an "anti-invasion exercise," designed to teach troops how to fight off the Germans if they invade this country. Battle practice now going on is strictly "how to invade Europe" in purpose.

Infantry regiments are being made to march 35 miles, rest four hours, then charge into battle.

"They could go by truck," in the words of one officer, "but there won't be many trucks 'over there' when we first land."

Generals Also Train

But not only the troops are taught to be tough. Generals live on exactly the same rations as their men; sleep in bedrolls on the ground; live with the aides-de-camp, batman and chauffeur. One general sums up his new job precisely:

"I've got to be worthy of the 20,000 men under me. If they've got to sleep on the ground, march to a battle—then I've got to do it too. If I can't stand the strain—the War Office will fire me and get someone else."

Unit commanders are encouraged, probably for the first time in British military history, to try out their pet schemes and unorthodox tactics—because "when we land in Europe things won't always go the same as in the textbooks."

Chief purpose of the maneuvers is to provide a post-graduate course in working together. Aircraft, tanks and infantry will all be in on the invasion; they will all have to know what their part is and how to work as a team. To this end "co-ordination experts" are constantly among the men teaching them the latest tricks and counter-tricks known.

The games embody all the most recent lessons of fighting from Egypt and what information Allied military observers may send home from the Russian front.

In such fast-moving warfare Intelligence units assume a greater importance than ever before.

The "GHQ Liaison Regiment" has been created to roam the battlefield for information. Men of this unit have for a job the "fight for facts." Ordered to keep away from battles "unless you have to destroy the enemy to find out about him," they scour the field for any information regarding the other side's dispositions and strength.

"Rekkies" Play Their Part

Too, Reconnaissance Corps—nicknamed "Rekkies"—play a more important role than ever before. With over 250 vehicles to a battalion and, it is claimed, the highest fire-power of any unit in the world, they are switched rapidly from area to area—wherever fast-moving attack troops are needed.

TO ATTEND MEETING

TULLYSTOWN, Aug. 13—All emergency police of Tullytown borough are requested to attend a meeting at the municipal building, Bristol, tonight, at eight o'clock.

WORK OF WOMEN'S HOME DEFENSE UNIT IN NUTRITION, FOOD CONSERVATION AND OTHER ENDEAVORS IS MOST INSPIRING

For a little more than a year the women of Bucks County, guided by the Women's Home Defense Unit of the Volunteer Office of Civilian Defense, have been valiantly serving to strengthen some of the most vital strongholds of the nation at war—nutrition, food conservation, victory gardens, fingerprinting, clothes banks and the motor mechanics. The record of what these volunteer workers have accomplished since the unit was formed, July 11, 1941, as briefly reviewed at their recent annual meeting, is both encouraging and inspiring.

At this meeting, where the chairman of the unit, Mrs. Frank L. Magill, presided, Mrs. Thomas Ross, food conservation chairman, told of the 20 canning centers now operating, and the 7,000 quarts of beans, spinach, beets and applesauce then stored in various localities for emergency use. Nearly 600 women are helping in this effort to build up an adequate food bank. Of course the supplies in hand will be greatly increased during the later and more prolific canning season.

More than 500 registered victory gardens were reported by Miss E. Helaine Littleman, chairman of this division, who said the unregistered ones will bring the county total to more than 2,000. Each of these gardens carries the official insignia—a red, white and blue can on a stick, and each is a bulging source of material for the canned reserve.

The highly important fingerprinting campaign, of which Mrs. Samuel Permar is chairman, was somewhat slowed down by the emergency call for women to serve in the rationing of sugar and gasoline, but despite this a good start has been made, and the big job of recording the "whorls" of 21,000 public and private school children will be vigorously continued by the volunteers who have been trained by experts.

Although no complete total of second-hand clothing for men, women and children could be given by Mrs. Frank L. DeSilver, chairman of the clothes bank, she cited Langhorne, with more than 200 garments on hand, and New Britain Township, with 453 garments and 36 pairs of shoes. Mrs. DeSilver called special attention to the fact that clothing which has been exposed to tuberculosis, scarlet fever, diphtheria, smallpox or meningitis must be thoroughly disinfected before it can be accepted. All sorts of garments and shoes are greatly needed.

The nutrition division, under Mrs.

Samuel Permar, has paid special attention to the matter of undernourished children, and the existence of some 800 such in Bucks County doubtless will surprise the residents of this section where milk and various vitamin foods are so abundant. To spread information as to what foods are needed to combat undernourishment, a number of classes have been formed in different parts of the county, with a special objective of guiding people when further food rationing comes along.

The report of Mrs. Dorsey Richardson, chairman of the motor mechanics division, told of courses for women now operating in 16 different parts of the county, and attended by a total of several hundred volunteers. The motor corps, alone, has more than 300 members, and the whole situation is well in hand.

Under Mrs. Magill, as chairman of the unit are Mrs. Thomas Ross, vice-chairman, Doylestown; Mrs. Herbert C. Eberhart, secretary, Point Pleasant; Mrs. Franklin Wallin, Bristol; Mrs. Redding Rufe, Chalfont; and Mrs. Paul Sine, Sellersville, as area chairmen, and the following members: Mrs. Ida P. Carter, New Hope; Mrs. Hillborne Dean, New Hope; Mrs. Frank DeSilver, Riegelsville; Mrs. Arthur M. Eastburn, Doylestown; Mrs. Alexander Fleisher, Churchville; Mrs. Marie L. Holland, Bristol; Miss E. Helaine Littleman, Doylestown; Mrs. Samuel Permar, Richboro; and Miss Ellen Ross, Doylestown.

To Make Small Pillows for Use of Wounded in the Hospitals

ALSO CHEER BOXES

A meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the residence of Mrs. Harry Headley, 115 Jefferson avenue, president, on Tuesday evening.

After the devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Ada B. Sands, the minutes were read by Mrs. Raymond Beswick, and arrangements considered for a day of sewing for the making of small pillows to be used by wounded soldiers at the hospitals.

A number of soldiers, those related to members of the Union, are to be remembered with cheer boxes in the near future.

The delegates to be sent to the state convention in October were also considered.

An auction took place, at which time attractive packages were sold to the highest bidder, the proceeds to be used for material with which to make comfort pillows for the wounded.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Doron Green.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Three Italian Cruisers Damaged by U. S. Air Force

Calro—Three Italian cruisers were damaged when heavy bombers of the United States Air Force carried out a raid on Navarino, in Greece, at dusk on Monday. It was disclosed today.

Navarino lies on the southwestern coast of Peloponnesus, the southernmost island of the Grecian Archipelago.

However, crew members of the attacking bombers claimed that four cruisers were attacked. The enemy warships were sighted moored close together.

Size of the attacking bomber force was not disclosed and first reports made no mention of any losses suffered by the American birdmen.

Compiles List of Nazi Sympathizers

Washington—The Dies Committee announced today it has compiled a list of 17,000 sympathizers with the Nazi cause and disclosed that it will recommend to President Roosevelt that these persons be placed under "surveillance" to forestall possible sabotage.

At the same time, the committee disclosed it has received copies of a letter designating Walter Kappe to be the head and organizer of various pro-German organizations in the United States. He is one of three saboteurs sought by the FBI in recent widely broadcast descriptions.

Mainz Bombed for Second Successive Night

London—Mainz, important German industrial and railway center and the junction of the Rhine and Main Rivers, was bombed last night for the second successive time by a strong force of British planes, the Air Ministry announced today.

(Editor's Note: A German high command communique, with unusual frankness, admitted that "destruction on a large scale" was caused by the attack on Mainz. Large fires were started, the statement said. As usual, the communique maintained that the British bombing was confined to residential quarters and inflicted loss upon the civilian population "whose behavior was exemplary.")

Nazi-held airbases in the low countries of occupied Europe also were blasted. Five of the Royal Air Force bombers failed to return to their bases.

Britain Would Welcome American Generalissimo

LONDON, Aug. 13—(INS)—Britain would welcome the appointment of an American Generalissimo to command the Allied land forces in any operations on the continent of Europe—providing he's the best of all the men available for the job.

This frank statement was made with full authority today in political and service circles here. It was given in answer to a suggestion contained in a London daily newspaper that appointment of an American would be viewed with disfavor by Britain, and particularly by the British Army. The suggestion was branded as completely untrue and in no way corresponding with the real feeling here.

The appointment of an American General, it was stated, made after full consideration of the qualifications and abilities of all possible leaders, would be welcomed both officially and unofficially in Britain, "where the only desire is to see the best man at the head of the Allied forces, whatever his nationality may be."

Any statement to the contrary, it was added, was calculated to create a false and damaging impression in the United States and do great harm to the joint cause of the United Nations.

Ex-Olympic Champion Is Heard by Lions Club

CHALFONT, Aug. 13—An ex-Olympic champion, Jackson V. Scholz, addressed members of the Chalfont Lions Club when they met at Colonial Gardens, on Tuesday evening. He was introduced by A. Winthrop Hiscoc.

Mr. Scholz related many amusing incidents as a member of the United States Olympic teams during the years 1920 to 1928. His first trip was to Antwerp in 1920 with a visit to Sweden, and when the Olympic games are held in Europe it is customary for the English and American teams to hold a dual meet.

Mr. Scholz, a sprinter, recalled a meet in London when he acted as spokesman for the American group at a banquet attended by a Prince of the Royal House of Windsor.

In 1924 the games were held in Paris with a side meet in Ireland for persons of Irish descent. Later on Mr. Scholz was one of several representatives from different nations to leave Paris for Japan for a series of meets lasting several months. Mr. Scholz, a writer, resides near here.

Robert D. Landis, Conshohocken, and A. A. Wicks were guests.

BRISTOL BOND DRIVE IS GAINING MOMENTUM

N. Y. Wholesale Firm Agrees To Accept $10,000 Bond In Account Settlement

IDEA OF LOCAL MAN

Americans are buying War Savings Bonds and Stamps for victory every day in the week. Many special promotions have been planned and executed for the sale of them, but it remained for a Bristol business man to conceive a new idea for the sale of bonds. It is an idea that as far as is known is yet unique. And it is a plan that will probably be taken up by business men and large industrial enterprises throughout the nation.

To Abe Popkin, local retail shoe store operator, goes the credit for originating the new plan. It all came about when Mr. Popkin was named chairman of a general committee for a bond and stamp drive to be held in Bristol on Wednesday, August 19th, under the auspices of the Mill Street Business Men's Association. He was interested in selling and taking pledges for as many bonds as possible, and it occurred to him that some of the large wholesale houses from which he buys stock might be interested in settling accounts by acceptance of War Savings Bonds.

Popkin immediately wrote to one of the New York wholesale houses with which he does business. He told them he would like to settle his account by sending them a War Savings Bond for the $10,000. By return mail came the favorable reply that the bond was quite acceptable in settlement of the account. Now Mr. Popkin is writing to all his dealers in an effort to sell more War Savings Bonds in the same manner. The letter to the New York concern was as follows:

Lester Pincus Shoe Corp., 131 Duane St., New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:

As chairman of a forthcoming War Bond drive, scheduled for August 19th in Bristol, sponsored by the Mill Street Business Men's Association, I am calling upon you to help make our drive a success.

I would deem it a great personal favor, and you would at the same time be aiding your country, if you would accept a $10,000 war bond in settlement of my account.

Yours very truly,

A. POPKIN

By return mail Mr. Popkin received this answer to his letter:

A. Popkin, Bristol, Pa.

Dear Mr. Popkin:

Your letter of August 10th at hand regarding the War Bond Drive which you have in Bristol. I must say that your letter is rather unique, and I think you have something there.

I am going to subscribe for the $10,000 bond. It is a very good idea to settle one's account with a War Bond, and if this idea takes hold throughout the country I am pretty sure our Government will soon have enough money to finance the war the way it should be done.

You are to be commended for the splendid co-operation you are giving this drive, and if I can help further please call upon me.

Yours very truly,

LESTER PINCUS,

Lester Pincus Shoe Corporation

The total in pledges for the local drive has now reached the significant figure of $35,700, a jump of $15,000 over yesterday.

Doylestown C. of C. Will Sponsor An Honor Roll

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 13—With the names of the committee to be announced in the near future by the president, James B. Fretz, the Doylestown Chamber of Commerce, in session on Tuesday evening, decided to sponsor the erection of a roll of honor, as a community project, for the county seat.

Stanley Bowers, Doylestown Post, No. 175, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who suggested, as a representative of the "vets" that the C. of C. should sponsor the roll of honor on which will be placed the name of every local man and woman serving with the armed forces, made the motion which started the ball rolling.

President Fretz said he will announce the names of those serving on the committee in the near future.

During a discussion, concerning the erection of a Doylestown World War II Roll of Honor, most of the C. of C. members favored the small, peaked plot of ground in front of the Lyons Building, on the corner of West Court and Main streets.

REMEDY URGENT

The layoff of hundreds of workers at the Wright aircraft engine factory at Paterson, New Jersey, because of a shortage of raw material puts the finger on a vital fault in the government's control of war industry production.

The layoff caused the shutdown of the foundry operated by the Wright company in connection with its aircraft engine plant. It was the second time within a few days that workers were laid off because of lack of material. The material has been on order for nearly a year.

It is apparent that something is radically wrong when such an important cog in the nation's war effort as an aircraft plant has to curtail its output because of lack of material. Planes are vital to victory and engines are vital to planes. Admittedly engines have been the bottleneck preventing a larger output of planes. Therefore nothing should be allowed to interfere with the maximum production of aircraft engines.

Undoubtedly the Wright company has all the gilt-edged priorities it wants. But priorities on paper do not mean a thing when the raw material is not forthcoming. There are reports that some plants have been getting more steel and other materials than they can use while others are crying for it in vain.

The problem seems to be in the lap of the WPB. The Army and Navy Munitions Board has passed on to the WPB major responsibility for maximum war production and the WPB is now understood to be trying to work out a quota system by which a steady supply of materials would be made available.

With the accent so heavily on industrial production, the situation calls for an effective remedy with the utmost speed. The strangest part is that the remedy has already been so long on the way.

MRS. AMERICA AT WAR

A certain glamor attaches to the career of the WAACS and the WAVES, and there is no doubt regret in the hearts of many a good American housewife or business girl that circumstances prevent her becoming a member.

But even if Mrs. America can not go into uniform or get into the production line for the all-out war effort in industry, there are other ways in which she may help. The survey made by the General Federation of Women's Clubs of the 2,500,000 members of its 16,500 clubs shows that they have been taking advantage of those other opportunities.

Activities revealed by the survey show that American women are selling and buying bonds, raising gardens or chickens, responding to Red Cross calls, working on farms, raising money to buy bombers, furnishing recreation halls and baking cookies for soldiers, operating canteens and acting as hostesses.

There probably will be other ways which Mrs. America will discover in which she can aid the war effort. American ingenuity is just as strong in the everyday business of homemaking as in the field of science and invention. And this ingenuity is given new impetus by the American woman's desire to go all out for her men in the armed forces.

Kings from foreign countries are arriving in Washington so fast that the White House staff hardly has time to change the sheets on the guest-room bed.

FAULTY EDUCATION SYSTEM

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — (INS) — Public schools do not provide equal learning opportunities to all children because they fail to take into consideration individual variations in ability to learn, Dr. Emmett A. Betts, in charge of the reading clinic at the Pennsylvania State College, said.

Compelling slow children to repeat a grade is not the solution, Dr. Betts points out. Such procedure results merely in their repeating their previous errors.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 81-mm Trench Mortar is the big brother of the 60-millimeter mortar and costs $700 each. It is a short range gun, firing in an arc at the rate of about 35 shells per minute. Because of its trajectory, the gun crew can be out of sight and comparatively safe from enemy snipers.

The Army needs hundreds of these efficient guns. You can help obtain them by investing at least ten percent of your income regularly, every payday, in War Bonds and Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps from your bank, your post-office, or at some other conveniently located issuing agent. For every $3 you invest, you get $4 at maturity. U. S. Treasury Department

U. S. Navy fighting planes are fast, powerful and deadly in dog fights with enemy planes. Based on carriers, they have given splendid accounts of themselves in their engagements with the Japs in the Pacific and Far Eastern waters. A Navy fighting plane costs about $165,000.

Production lines in many American plants are rolling these planes off the assembly lines night and day. We must have them to whip the Axis powers. You can help get them for our brave American flyers by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. If you have not already done so, join up with your payroll savings plan at your factory or store. Or buy Bonds regularly at your bank, postoffice or other issuing agent.

move bay leaf, and add sauce to meat which has been cut in large cubes. Spread half the rice in a greased casserole, dot with 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 cup cheese, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and 1/16 teaspoon pepper. Add meat and tomato sauce, then top with remaining rice, and dot with remaining butter, cheese, salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 minutes.

Pastry with Cheese

Blend 1 1/2 cups flour, 1/2 cup sharp cheese, and 1/2 cup lard. Gradually add 4 to 6 tablespoons water. Combine gently into a dough. Use for berry, fruit or custard pie.

PEACHES, BECAUSE OF SIZE, ARE VERY EASY FRUIT TO PRESERVE

By Edna Stephany
(Home Economics Representative)

Golden yellow and white peaches are plentiful enough to can for next winter's use. No Bucks County family wants to be without some of this delicious and popular canned fruit.

Because of their size, peaches are one of the easiest and quickest fruits to preserve, obtaining from 16 to 20 quarts per bushel depending on how they are canned.

For canning, select peaches with special care, using no bruised or green ones. Dip the peaches in hot water just until you can slip the skins off easily. Cut in halves or slices and pack into clean jars on which the rubbers have been placed. Add one pit to each jar for flavor. You may prefer to cook the peaches in a sirup until tender then pack hot into jars.

Peaches contain 12 per cent natural fruit sugar so little extra sweetening is needed. Because of the sugar shortage this year, a thin sirup made of 1 cup of sugar and 3 cups of water is satisfactory. Some homemakers believe a little sugar helps to preserve the flavor and color of the fruit but sugar is not necessary. Peaches keep as well without, as with sugar. Honey or corn sirup may be substituted for all or part of the sugar in the sirup.

To can without sugar, prepare peaches as for canning with sugar. Instead of using a sirup, take some of the riper fruits and cook to obtain juice and fill the jars with this juice.

Be sure to entirely cover the peaches in the jar with either sirup or juice within one-fourth inch of the top of the jar. This will prevent discoloration of the canned product. Put lids on jars, complete the seal, and process in the hot water bath. If you pack peaches raw, process pint jars 20 minutes and quart jars 25 minutes. If you precook the peaches in sirup, process both pint and quart jars 15 minutes.

At the end of the processing time, remove the jars at once from the water bath, and tighten the covers, unless you are using the new vacuum seal lids, in which case no tightening is necessary. Stand the jars upright and allow to cool in air but out of draft. Store in a cool, dry place away from the light.

Directions for canning other fruits are given in the new circular No. 238, "Canning Fruits and Vegetables at Home." You may have a copy upon request to the Agricultural Extension Office in Doylestown.

and sauce meat to add seasonings and spice to our desserts. Here's how:

Rich Indian Pudding
Pour—
1 cup milk, scalded
Over—
1/2 cup corn meal
Add, combining well—
1 (1-pound) can mince meat
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg, slightly beaten.
Pour into a greased cake pan (8"x8") and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 60 minutes. Serve with milk. Serves 8.

Sugarless Desserts
When it comes to sugar rationing the American housewife is, traditionally, an old hand at the game. Some learned to cook with sugar substitutes during the First World War. Others know it just by hearsay. But either way, it's so much a part of our kitchen heritage that we can all take to it without much effort. For, except for about the past fifty years we've nearly always been on short sugar rations in this country. Not that we didn't have our sweets. Indeed no! We had the reputation of eating more sweets than any other nation in the world.

Apple Macaroon Pudding
Beat—
1 egg
Add, mixing well—
1/2 cup pure apple butter
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
1 dozen almond macaroons, broken into small pieces.
Pour into a buttered casserole and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 35 minutes or until firm in center. Serves 6.

Raspberry Grape Freeze
Combine—
1/2 glass grape jelly
3/4 cup water
1 pint raspberries (fresh or frozen). Simmer for 2 minutes, then press through a sieve to remove seeds.

Whip separately, then fold together and combine with raspberry mixture—
3/4 cup whipping cream
1 egg white.
Freeze quickly until firm. Serves 5

Frontier housewives learned to use the foods they had on hand, and so can we today. We can sweeten with molasses, honey, and corn syrup, and use such prepared fruits as jellies, apple puddings,

Two Events of Interest To Flower Lovers Are Scheduled

With mid-summer flowers blooming in profusion, two events of interest to flower lovers will take place this month.

A short course in flower judging is to be given by A. O. Rasmussen in the Administration Building Annex, Doylestown, on August 26th, according to an announcement by Miss Edna Stephany, home economics representative of Bucks County.

The demonstration will commence at 10 a. m., and continue until 3:30, with a period from 12 to 1:30 for luncheon.

On Tuesday next at two p. m., at the home of Mrs. James Dawson, Newtown R. D. No. 2, the Newtown 4-H Flower Club will conduct a round-up. All floral entries should be arranged between one and two, with judging starting at two. Buckingham and Richboro clubs will hold round-ups at the same time.

O Thou who openest thy hand and satisfiest the hunger of the body for food, of the eye for beauty, of the heart for love, of the mind for knowledge; satisfy this day the craving of our souls for a deeper and fuller knowledge and understanding of thee and thy will. Teach us how to read thy word, which has been a solace to so many in years gone by. Teach us how to pray, that our hearts might be opened to thy spirit, that we might receive the inspiration of thy presence. Thus cause us to grow in grace and in the knowledge of Jesus Christ our Lord, in whose Name we pray. Amen.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Laughter is the keynote of Kay Kyser's latest picture for RKO Radio, "My Favorite Spy," which opened yesterday at the Grand Theatre to offer plenty of excitement and several catchy new songs in addition to its hilarity.

In the film, Kyser is just getting married when his country calls him. After some comic mishaps, he lands in the intelligence service, is assigned to help in exposing an enemy spy ring, and ordered to keep his mouth shut; he can't tell even his bride about his job. However, when an attractive blonde operative is told to work with him, and the new Mrs. Kyser finds it out, things begin to happen to Kyser's domestic life.

RITZ THEATRE

Followers of the pint-sized Snuffy Smith in Billy De Beck's famous cartoon strip have an opportunity to view their hero as a living, speaking personality in "Private Snuffy Smith," the comedy which opened at the Ritz Theatre last night—and the transition from printed page to screen brings into being a film character of unusual appeal.

The picture undoubtedly qualifies as the most successful effort of its kind ever done.

BRISTOL THEATRE

The long-awaited appearance of Jean Gabin in his first American motion picture took place at the Bristol Theatre yesterday, when "Moon Tide" had its local premiere. The wait was not in vain. From the first moment Gabin appears on the screen, to the final fade-out, there is no question that here is one of the great screen actors of our time.

Leon Janney and Eleanor Hunt are the co-stars of "Stolen Paradise," a story of Adolescence," now showing at the Bristol Theatre.

MAKE CHANGES IN SCHEDULE OF THE SUBURBAN LEAGUE, IN ORDER TO PLAY AS MANY OF POSTPONED GAMES AS POSSIBLE

Changes were made in the schedule of the Bristol Suburban League last night at a meeting of the managers held in the St. Ann's club-house. Purpose of the changes was to get in as many postponed games as possible before the final playing night which is next Tuesday. The only game wiped off the schedule is the Edgely and Voltz-Texaco game of last night.

The meeting also saw the Edgely management withdraw its claim of a forfeited game from the Hunter team. The Edgely team took the game when Hunter's failed to provide bags for a game scheduled on St. Ann's field. According to the rules which President Paul Voltz upheld at the time, Edgely was awarded the game on a forfeit but last night Edgely decided to play the game.

The managers also voted to let the protest board decide a protest of Badenhausen against the Voltz-Texaco team. The protest is on a game played last Friday night on Turner's field. League advisor Thomas Juno was asked to call a board meeting before the league season closes.

According to the revised schedule, the game scheduled for tonight between Hunter and Diamond will be played on St. Ann's field. Tomorrow night, Diamond plays Voltz-Texaco on St. Ann's field and St. Ann's meets Hunter's on the Edgely diamond. Monday night, Diamond plays Edgely on the Edgely field. St. Ann's meets Hunter's on the Roth and Haas diamond while Badenhausen plays Voltz-Texaco on St. Ann's field. On Tuesday the schedule closes with St. Ann's playing Badenhausen on Turner's field and Hunter's meeting Edgely on the latter's diamond.

Although the revising of the schedule will enable the teams to play most of the games, the only change in the standing is that a victory is taken from the Edgely column and a loss erased from the Hunter team, putting the Hunter team at one-half game away from second place.

However, the Voltz-Texaco team is still pacing the circuit and unless the protest is decided against them is assured of at least a tie for the second half race. Voltz-Texaco has but two more games to play while Edgely also has two and Hunter's four. Should Hunter win its four scheduled games and Voltz lose its two then the Hunter team will win the half by one-half game. But if it should rain on one of the nights Hunter's has little hope of winning and the best it can hope for is a deadlock.

Badenhausen will lose three of its players this week when Harvey Rigby, Jimmy Kelly, and Bob Whyte leave for the army. The rules of the league permits them to sign three more players.

As the matter now stands, tonight and tomorrow night will decide the Bristol Suburban League second half. Representatives present at the meeting were: Voltz-Texaco, George Dougherty; Edgely, Edward DeKoye; Diamond, Henry Morgan; Hunter's, Joseph Valenti; Badenhausen, Paul Dean; and St. Ann's, Tony Angelo. President Paul Voltz conducted the meeting.

AIRCRAFT BUILDERS SCHEDULE TOUGH GAME

One of the toughest games on the aircraft builders' circuit is scheduled for Sunday when the Fleetwings Arrows meet the Bendix Aviation nine, of Philadelphia, at Croydon Field. "Play ball" will be called at five p. m.

Bendix is at present tied for the Philadelphia Industrial League championship with SKF and Teamsters' Local, while the Arrows have triumphed over some very formidable service aggregations.

Manager Shubert, of Bendix, has not yet announced who will be on the mound against the Arrows, but it is expected that either Bud Simon, formerly of the Pittsburgh Pirates, or Bob Gray will do the twirling.

The Arrows' Manager, "Joe" Dougherty, will probably rely on Paterra to pitch and Mazillo to catch.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—(INS)—In the Capitol today, the Democratic Party is creating a skilled labor shortage in the armed services and higher wages in war industries threaten to create a skilled labor shortage soon on Capitol Hill. . . . Hardest hit are those departments employing engineers, draftsmen and technical employees such as Highways, Forests and Waters, Labor and Industry, Health, and the Public Utility Commission. . . . Officials explain that a similar situation existed during World War I, when hundreds of trained workers, that were not drafted, resigned to take jobs in high-paying war industries. . . . In addition, most all state departments are having difficulties in attracting experienced stenographers, typists and machine operators because private business tops state salaries.

When four new legislators were sworn into office last week they ended the 65-year-old career of the book which all representatives and employees of the House must sign when they take their oaths of office at the beginning of each regular and special session. . . . The two-inch thick oath book contains more than 18,000 signatures. . . . The first speaker of the House to sign was E. Reed Myer of Bradford who presided over the 1877 session while the last speaker to sign was Elmer Kilroy. . . . The book will be sent to the State Archives to be preserved with other oath books dating back to 1776.

Pennsylvania's political pot is beginning to boil a little bit ahead of schedule. . . . Ordinarily, campaign chiefs would not sound the political tocsin until next month, but a tangle within the Democratic party plus payroll padding charges leveled by the G. O. P. against the Democratic controlled Auditor General's Department has launched the 1942 gubernatorial campaign. . . . Democrats are pondering whether Sen. John J. Harshbarger will attempt to wreck the gubernatorial chances of Auditor General P. Clair Ross by refusing to withdraw the United Pension Party, which is akin to the defunct "ham and egg" scheme of other years to provide oldsters with a monthly check. . . . Haluska, a Democrat, announced he would be the pension party's candidate for Governor during the 1942 special session but Democratic leaders said he would get out of the race before the August 25th deadline for withdrawing independent parties. . . . Haluska, however, told State Chairman David L. Lawrence last week that he would not withdraw unless the Democratic platform committee incorporated the pension plan into the party's program. . . . Lawrence refused but indicated a partial plan might be considered. . . . Haluska turned down the offer and said he was though conferring with party officials.

Cows in Gardenville Herd Chalk Up Fine Records

PETERBOROUGH, N. H., Aug. 13.—A cow in the herd of John N. Matthews, Gardenville, has completed an official record in the Herd Improvement Division qualifying her for admission to the Advanced Register of The American Guernsey Cattle Club, according to Karl B. Musser, secretary. A four year old cow in the Matthews herd, Walley of Hall Acres 574388 produced in 280 days 9225.3 pounds of milk and 470.0 pounds of butter fat in class CH1.

Four Guernsey cows owned by Matthews, have completed new official records for production which entitles them to entry in the Advanced Register of The American Guernsey Cattle Club. These cows have produced more than the average of the breed for their age and class.

TRAGIC ACCIDENT

VANCOUVER, B. C.—(INS)—A 17-year-old mill worker was strangled to death here by his apron. The coal sack apron, hung around his neck by a leather strap, caught in a machine sprocket.

As the sack was drawn in by the sprocket, the leather strap tightened. His neck was broken.

EYE REJECTIONS

KEESLER FIELD, Miss.—(INS)—Better take care of those eyes if you desire enlistment as a candidate in any of the army's special schools. Major George A. Peck, post flight surgeon who handles 100 physical examinations here daily, has listed poor eyesight as cause for the greatest number of rejections. Teeth, on the other hand, which usually cause the most pre-examination worry, are responsible for the fewest failures.
